We are seeking applications for the role of an Associate Editor of the Journal of Sport Psychology in Action (JSPA; http://www.tandfonline.com/toc/uspa20/current). The aim of the JSPA is to provide psychology practitioners involved in the sport industry with sound information that is immediately applicable to their work. It provides sport psychologists with useful and sensible informed guidance that will make a difference in the way they practice. The scope of JSPA is any information that assists sport psychology practitioners to better understand, assess, and intervene with clients (individuals, families, groups, organizations, community) in order to promote more effective functioning.

The responsibilities of a JSPA Associate Editor are to:

- Select and invite experts to review manuscripts submitted to the journal.
- Review manuscripts submitted to the journal.
- Make recommendations to the Editor-in-Chief about how to proceed with reviewed manuscripts.
- Liaise with and advise the Editor-in-Chief about matters arising related to the journal.
- Promote the journal using various forms of media.
- Complete other reasonable and related tasks as requested by the Editor-in-Chief.

The position is a fixed-term of three years (starting January 2021) and has an associated stipend of $750 per annum and the potential for reappointment.

To apply for the position, candidates should send a two-page summary CV and 400-word statement of interest that addresses their fit for the role.

The successful applicant will demonstrate evidence of the following:

- A postgraduate qualification in applied sport psychology or related area;
- Experience on the editorial board of a peer-reviewed journal;
- Current, full AASP membership;
- A passion for the application of sport psychology;
- A sound understanding of the aim and scope of JSPA, particularly the writing style requirements which are somewhat unique to the journal;
- A thorough knowledge of both researcher and practitioner expertise in multiple areas of sport psychology;
- A thorough understanding of AASP and APA ethical codes and guidelines;
- Ability to make difficult but decisive decisions;
- Time available to adequately complete role; and;
- Professional, punctual, and reliable.

Applications should be sent electronically to JSPA Editor, Professor Ian Maynard (i.w.maynard@essex.ac.uk) and AASP Publications & Information Division Head, Ale Quartiroli (aquartirol@uwla.edu). The deadline to apply is January 8, 2021 at Noon GMT.
